Wedding Bells

IWAASA KINOSHITA

The Raymond Second Ward Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding Wednesday, November 26th, when Selma Kinoshita, daughter of M. K. Kinoshita, was united in matrimony to Toru Iwaasa, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Iwaasa of Raymond.

The bride was charming in a floor length gown of white satin combined with white lace and net and carried a bouquet of white gardenias on a white ribbon. She entered on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march.

The bridesmaid, Miss Shimi Iwaasa, sister of the groom, was in a floor length gown of turquoise blue tulle and Miss Shizuka Kinoshita, niece of the bride, chose a floor length gown of pink nylon. Both bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of mauve and white mums. The groom was supported by Mr. Shigoro Takahashi, President L. L. Palmer performed the ceremony after which Mrs. Muriel Terry sang "All That I Ask Is Love". Later a chicken supper was served to two hundred and thirty-five guests which was followed by an interesting program. Toast to the bride was given by Ray Iwaasa to which the groom responded.

Mr. Mark Tamura of Rosemary was a very able Master of Ceremonies. Dr. H. Shimokura of Lethbridge thanked everyone who had taken part on the program and Mr. Meto Karaki, brother-in-law of the groom on behalf of the newly weds, thanked everyone for the lovely gifts.

Guests attended from Coaldale, Rosemary, Lethbridge, Nobleford, and Magrath. Both groom and best man are well known here in Raymond, both having joined the Canadian army, spending four years in Europe. The bride, formerly lived at the coast.

After a honeymoon in Calgary and Edmonton, the young couple will make their home in Raymond where the groom is engaged in farming with his father.

LEGION MEMORIAL HALL

Appeal for the public's support of the Canadian Legion Memorial Hall that the local branch determined to build in Raymond, has been sympathetically received by the public as evidenced from a considerable number of the subscriptions to the fund that have been received to date.

The local vets are hopeful that the objective of $1000 for this building will eventually be subscribed and Legionnaires will have a hall of their own to carry on their activities under the banner of the Canadian Legion which did so much to service men during the war through the medium of Auxiliary and Educational services not counting other services rendered. This is one of the reasons why a great majority of returned men have joined and are joining the Legion today.

Contribute to the Legion Memorial Building Fund NOW.

An important meeting will be held on Wednesday, December 3rd, at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall. All Legionnaires are urged to attend the meeting, to elect new officers for 1948 and Trustees, to hear the financial report by the secretary treasurer, to hear the report of the building committee, and other current business.

DOWN WITH DIPHTHERIA

The people of Raymond are to have an opportunity to take part in an attempt to halt the spread of Diphtheria, when starting this week a FREE IMMUNIZATION program against diphtheria will get underway.

This immunization program consists of three "shots", the first on December 6th, the second, December 27 and the third on January 17th. On the above dates ONLY will the shots be given and at the hour of 10 a.m. ONLY.

Diphtheria is present in some areas of southern Alberta and to stop the spread to Raymond, every man, woman and child is urged to get this FREE immunization service against Diphtheria. Not only are you urged to do it but we feel it is the duty of everyone to have this immunization.

Due to the large amount of work attached to giving this service "shots" will be given ONLY on the days and at the time shown. No carryovers will be given.

SHOPPER'S CAROL

'Twas the night before Christmas
An all through the store,
The shoppers were wishing
They'd started before.

The shirt and pyjamas —
All had been sold.
Nylons and nighties
Were rarer than gold.

Gone were the blankets
And baggage and all.
The toys were kaput
To the last baby doll.

The many gift items
With just the right touch
Were sadly depleted
What was left—wasn't much

All the tinsel and holly
And the lavish display
Had begun to look tired,
And not quite so gay.

The spirit of Yuletide,
Was not at it best....
And the poor weary clerks
Had lost some of their zest.

This poem has a moral,
Its meaning is clear —

BE CAREFUL

As winter approaches the danger of fires in farm homes increases. Such an occurrence should be avoided at all costs as it imperils human life as well as causing property loss.

The use of coal oil and gasoline in starting fires in stoves is the most common cause of these. No fire should ever be started with these oils on liquids. It may take a minute or two longer to start the fire in the ordinary way, but the risk is greatly minimized.

A TELEPHONE?

How long have you had your application for a telephone?

I was talking the other day to a man who has had an application in for five years. In the block this man lives on there is no telephone. In case of a serious accident or fire it is a full block to the nearest phone in this particular part of town there are dozens of applications for telephone services. Over the whole town there are dozens more.

The hold up is lack of cable. It is said that there would be cable for two years. Why. After two years of peace there must be a good reason why there is not sufficient cable to go round. What is the thing lacking that is holding up the production of cable.

Raymond should be pretty close to the top of the list now for new cable and additional telephones. Our plight should be made known to the telephone company and a request for a remedy of the situation be made if at all possible. After five years a man should be able to get a phone.

MY WEEK

by R. J. Deachman

It's hard to say just when man came to this earth. This we do know in the early stages of his existence he was a simple fellow, he didn't amount to much.

In time he developed a brain, then he made better weapons—that may or may not prove his intelligence. In those new implements made work easier, a steel plow was better than a bent stick.

Nearly all agricultural progress took place in the last hundred years.

Men now living remember those simple farm implements, the cradle and the scythe. In fact a few years ago there was a cradle on almost every farm in the Province of Ontario. Now cradles are museum pieces, they serve as relics of a past when men, especially farmers earned their bread by the sweat of their backs.

The reaper started it all. Its first existence is recorded at Staunton, Virginia, U.S.A. in July, 1831. This was the first break from the primitive farm implements. Progress was slow. It was nine years after its first demonstration that young Cyrus Hall McCormick made his first sale. It consisted of two reapers to which he received $100 each. In 1847 he built his first factory in Chicago. He employed 33 men the first year and turned out 500 reapers. From then on progress was rapid. Production in 1870 was up to 10,000 machines.

This was the beginning of new life for the farmer—progress came from industry. Industry made progress possible. Agriculture became a part of the machine age.

Agriculture ceased to be a heavy back-breaking task. Although the farmer still finds it difficult to take two weeks holiday with pay, his lot is, in many ways more comfortable than that of the average industrial worker.

While this process has been going on, the farmer's home has been transformed. Electric power is now available on many farms. We are blessed, in Canada, with abundance of water power. The cost lies in distribution. As time goes on the farm is modernized—so too is the farm home.

Why was the progress of agriculture so long delayed. The task may have been more difficult. It may have been easier to invent a steam engine than a milking machine. Other industries had more capital. This gave them greater opportunities to search for better ways of doing things. The rate of progress now is swifter with the passing years. As soon as the human race begins to recover from the effects of war progress will be more rapid than ever before. Still we are not as sure of ourselves — nor are others so sure of us.

Think back to the days of the a horse or a world series or on being right about how long the next strike would last, at that rate. If your seventeen million were in cents you wouldn't be interested in the one or two or three cents it brought you. The winnings are mighty small change, but the loss would be something. Why take risks in working, driving or playing? You'll be giving long odds.

ALLERGY TO COSMETICS

There's one thing about having an allergy, and that is that it can be discussed any time and any place. It gives people an outlet for their desire to discuss their ailments without venturing into territory which is not conversation. However there's no guarantee that an audience won't get bored.

What is an allergy? It's a hypersensitivity in some people to a substance which is harmless to most people, or it is a personal reaction of an individual to a substance which is in itself harmless.

These sensitivities arise from three sources: contact, inhalation, and ingestion, and they make themselves apparent in three general types of reactions, skin, respiratory and intestinal.

A good many people are allergic to cosmetics, that is to say, to certain things commonly used in cosmetics. The reaction indicates itself by showing up as a rash, burning sensation, and various types of skin outbreak and sometimes as a form of asthma or hay fever. Certain types of dye in lipstick may cause trouble. Some perfumes may cause hay-fever. Lanolin, which is a form of wool fat is the cause of skin irritation to some people. Orris root is occasionally an allergen to some. Some freckle creams and bleaches cause troublesome reactions. Dermatitis from soaps may be due to the free alkali content.

The discovery that some cosmetics cause skin troubles does not mean that you have to give up using cosmetics; it merely means that by process of elimination you will have to find out what causes the trouble and stop using that particular type of cosmetic. As this usually takes months you'll have a subject for con-

MOTORISTS WARNED OF POISONOUS FUMES

Fresh warnings of the dread danger of carbon monoxide has been given by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

This is the time of year when motorists have to be especially on guard against these poisonous fumes which in past years have taken a dreadful toll of lives. Many motorists still drive old model cars, having not been able in some cases to obtain newer models as soon as desired.

Motor Club officials say that care to avoid carbon monoxide should be taken, particularly in the case of those operating old machines.

Many fatalities have occurred while starting up the car in the garage when preparing to leave for work in the morning. Make certain that one or more of the car windows are open and that there is sufficient space for fresh air to circulate.

Training in Farm Science

Successful farming requires just as much science and skill as does the practice of medicine, dentistry, or any other profession. For this reason, training in farm science and sound farming experience are matters of real importance to the farmer of the future. No young man, who intends to devote his life to farming, can afford to ignore the value of agricultural training.

Agricultural Training. For young men, 16 years and over, sound, practical one- and two-year courses in agriculture are offered at the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg; the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon; and at the Schools of Agriculture, Olds and Vermilion, Alberta. These courses extend from about the first of November to the end of March. They are designed for the specific purpose of training young men in practical farm operation. Instruction is given in all important phases of agricultural production (Field Crops, Livestock, Soils, Agricultural Engineering, etc.). In addition, ample opportunity is provided for the student to take part in well-organized social, athletic and executive activities. The result is he returns to his farm a better farmer, a more useful citizen, and prepared to become a leader in his home community.

Short Courses. This Fall and Winter, the various agricultural institutions in Western Canada are again offering a number of Short Courses in Agriculture and Home Economics. These courses provide the latest, practical information on special agricultural subjects such as Raising, Horticulture, Poultry, Agricultural Engineering, and Home-making. They are designed, both in respect to time and cost, to meet the needs of farm men and women.

Anyone interested in any of these courses should apply for further particulars directly to: The Dean, Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Manitoba, Winnipeg; The Director, School of Agriculture, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon; The Principal, School of Agriculture, Olds or Vermilion, Alberta.

CHRISTMAS TREE

by Gerald Chan Sieg.

The little fir stands in the room
With shining bells on every bough.
With all its needles hung with snow
You had seen it yesterday.
You would not know it now.

For it was growing in the wood,
The smallest tree that we had seen.
And all its needles hung with snow
Were white instead of green.

It stood and listened while the wind
Went blowing loud and cold and fast.
It made a little frosty howl
To an old fox that passed.

And now it looks as if it came
From fairy country strange and far,
All glittering with the lights and bells
And the tiny golden star.

I wonder if this little tree
Is happy here among us all,
And if it still remembers snow,
And the fox and the wild wind's call.

MR. FARMER—YOU BE JUDGE AND JURY, TOO!

During the world-wide depression of the thirties, prices for everything, including wheat, went crashing down. Millions of people all over the world were unemployed. So many United States banks failed that President Roosevelt closed all banks for a while to avoid nation-wide panic. Since that time, certain people in Western Canada have never ceased to attack The Winnipeg Grain Exchange and blame its Members for the then low world price of wheat.

Our Members had no more to do with that low price than you did. It was caused by the world-wide depression and the excess of supply of wheat over demand because many people couldn't even afford to buy bread. Every fair-minded farmer knows that, despite years of misleading and contrary propaganda put out by the leaders of the "Pools."

Up to now, The Winnipeg Grain Exchange has ignored this misleading propaganda, but the time has come to refute it. So, in a series of advertisements (of which this is the first), The Exchange will tell you how its Members operate and answer some of the questions asked at farmers' meetings. These advertisements will appear in this paper and in leading farm papers for some months to come. Please read them.

You have heard the "Pools" side often enough. Now read our side and be Judge and Jury in the matter. Our Members do not fear your verdict.

Meantime, mail the coupon below for a free copy of the booklet "An Explanation of the Canadian Wheat Board Act 1935 and Amendments Thereof." It's important for you to know how you are now being regulated and controlled.

HISTORY OF RAYMOND

By ELIZABETH KING

RAYMOND'S FIRST BAKERY AND CONFECTIONERY

Harry Jones was a convert to the L.D.S. Church from Wales where he first heard the Gospel. Soon after he left Wales for Utah, where he joined the church there. The Jones family came to Canada in a covered wagon in 1899, spending the winter of '98 in Montana.

Their home was a tent and while there their son, Alvin, was born. From Montana they came north to M.L. View, west of Ardson.

In 1900 Mr. Jones was employed as cook for the Government Telephone Co. who were erecting lines through southern Alberta. In the early part of 1901 he was asked to cook for the canal building crew. He did his cooking in a large tent which was located south of town near the canal. At that time there was not a single house on the flat of what is now Raymond.

Mr. Jones was an excellent cook and went all over the country cooking for different projects.

Later he was employed in the Grocery department of the Mercantile and also as dry goods clerk and window dresser. He worked here for about eleven years. At one time, the towns of southern Alberta sponsored a window dressing contest offering a first prize of $25.00. Harry Jones was the proud first prize winner. His daughter Bernyse Weaver has in her possession a photograph of the prize window and her father.

Some time later Mr. Jones built a confectionery store and bakery and for many many years was the towns baker, then his sons took up the business and carried on all down the years until recently when Paul Evans and Ted Abel returned from overseas and world war 2 and took over the Jones Bakery. In those early days Harry supplied the ice cream and confections to the church organizations here in Raymond. He purchased his milk and cream supply from "Grandma" Hancock who is still living at the good old age of 96. Her son Ed took up where she left off and carried on for a good many years when his son Alma took over and is at present in the Dairy Business.

The Jones family were the first to have the luxury of hot and cold water and a bath room in those early days.

The home of Thomas Allan was built in 1904 by Harry Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were very active in the organizations and in the choir work, both being members of the choir in those early days. At one time Harry Jones was choir manager and many choir parties were held in his home.

Mrs. Jones (Annie) was an ardent church worker and the writer had the pleasure of working with her in the ward and stake primary, also the Ward and stake M.I.A. and can vouch for her loyalty and dependability in these capacities until her health failed and she reluctantly gave up doing the things she loved so well.

Mrs. Jones was at the bed side of the mother who gave birth to the first baby born in Raymond in 1901. (Jesse Nilsson.)

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were blessed with 9 children, Albert, Austin, of Raymond, Alvin of Taber, Stanley, Calgary, Bill, Taber, Heber, Picture Butte, Goldie, Taber, Ina, Washington, Bernyse, Raymond.

Mrs. Jones passed away in Mr. Jones in April 1944.

PUT UP HAY FOR JESSE KNIGHT

James Hawkins landed in Raymond May 2nd, in a heavy snow storm, his wife and baby girl (Viola) following him in December of that same year. He with several other men were hired to put up hay for the thousands of cattle and horses being brought to the district. Mr. Hawkins enjoyed telling his friends how these hay men would pull their mowers out on the prairie and cut, haul and build huge stacks of hay here, there and all over the prairie. They were proud of these stacks and called the grass "prairie wool" but after the stacks had stood for one month, the time allowed before they were measured the stacks shrunk to near half their original size. "Uncle" Jesse seeing the disappointment of the men immediately made it right with them as he did on every other occasion. For many years Mr. Hawkins was in the blacksmithing and implement business before he turned his attention to farming.

In pioneer days it was "Jim" Hawkins who took charge of the Dominion Day Parades and set off the "cannons" at daybreak. He was an enthusiastic booster for the town of Raymond and helped build a better future for the town and district.

For 18 years he was one of the Opera House Workers. For 27 years he worked in the Sunday School and other organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins were the parents of ten children Viola, Glen, Wyona, Lynn, Leroy, Floyd, Fern, Gwendolyn Eva and Avarad.

Glen, Leroy (Poley) and Eva are at present living in Raymond.

Mr. Hawkins was afflicted for 16 years and before he passed away in May 1944 he was bed ridden for four or five years.

After his wife passed away he married Fontella Watson who had 5 sons.

Much credit is due Mrs. Hawkins for her unselfish devotion to both families and for her loyal loving care for her suffering husband.

Three of her sons served in the armed forces.

PIONEER FAMILY OF HENRY FAIRBANKS

written by Viola Fairbanks Lamar. Henry Fairbanks (my father), his sons Ed, John, Charles, Miles and Czar came to Canada in the summer of 1901, to put up hay for Ray Knight Jim Hawkins, Ernest Stark and wife Sarah, and small baby boy, and others came at this same time.

Mary Elizabeth (my mother) cautioned father before he left. "Now Hen, if you go up to Canada, first thing I'll know you'll want me to go way up there and live."

"No, I'm just going up to get the boys settled", reassured father.

Well when father arrived in this country and saw that tall, thick, green grass he, like many others, fell in love with the land. In fact he was so interested that people saw his enthusiasm and he was made the first Overseer in the town of Raymond.

My sister May Hawkins and her year old baby girl Viola, came to Canada to join her husband in December of the same year.

Fathers enthusiastic letters encouraged his brother George and wife Ann and 2 or 3 children to come to Canada.

I came the next spring in May 1902. Still my mother didn't want to come and was still waiting for father to come back to Payson. Some of the people that came at this time were LeBarons from Arizona, Cam-macks from Spanish Forks, Bullocks and VanWagoners from Provo and the greatest number was Johnsons from Arizona. In fact there was so many Johnsons that they were named the "Johnsons Army". It took two train coaches to hold this Johnsons Army that invaded Raymond in May.

And then "old man weather" wanted to reassure us that we had arrived in a wonderful land so he sent a big heavy snow storm a few days after our arrival. However it wasn't very cold.

We surely did have nice sociable times. There were parties, dances and home dramas. Father step danced at almost every program. Just the other day Tom Mendenhall was telling my daughter Viola how he and some other young men watched her grandfather Henry Fairbanks dance some lively steps one morning on the steps of the old stake house.

I did the cooking for father and my brothers and we lived in a one room lean to and a big tent for about a year. Then the carpenters Ben Roffson, Parley VanWagoner and Ernest Stark built the house where Czar Fairbanks now lives. Father now had his home built so in the spring of 1904 he went to Payson to get mother. She wasn't nearly as enthusiastic as father and she warned him by saying "Even if I do like Canada, I won't like it." Father just laughed—he was always so jolly.

That same year in the fall when Father and Miles were putting up hay on the ridge they got sick with fever. Father died in October.

In June of 1905 mother and I went back to Payson. She died in 1908. Then I came back to Canada and have resided here ever since.

WEEKLY LETTER

WHO KNOWS HOW TO FARM?

There are many agencies and many individuals who concern themselves with agricultural education.

Some of these agencies give the impression that were it not for their "noble" efforts the whole of our agricultural industry would go under.

While much, perhaps most of the information disseminated on agriculture is sound and good there is always a percentage of advice which would be better left unsaid. Agriculture continues to exist in spite of it—and because of it.

We are a long way removed from witch-doctors and medicine men and yet some of their voodoo persists along with other beliefs that are equally ill-founded.

We still hear frequently that potatoes should be planted or sown only after due reference to the almanac that assures will "burn up" the land that sugar beets ought not to be irrigated or that they will thus encourage grubber root length, that time cuts go wild, that topping cottonwood trees forever stops them from producing cotton, and so on.

Perhaps part of the reason for the persistence of these kind of ideas there are old practices which seem equally fantastic, which are nevertheless scientifically sound. In this class we have "seeding" a new alfalfa field in a new area with soil from an old established field, driving nails in apple trees to make them bear (this is a crude way to supply the needed iron and is not recommended), wood ashes for fertilizer, lime for acid soils and so forth.

In this modern day of enlightenment there is no excuse for following unsound agricultural doctrines. Every agriculturalist ought to examine his stock-in-trade and call in help where needed from neighbors, ever the odds are great in that direction. Only a sucker continues a publications. Proper practices do not guarantee unqualified success how dice are loaded against him.
